Second Group of Leaders Seminars Takes Road South

A traveling group of SUP officers will take the annual leadership seminar to chapters in Southern Utah and Arizona, according to Leonard H. Johnson, national SUP president-elect, who directed the Jan. 11 seminar in Salt Lake City.

Johnson will head the delegation, which plans meetings in Kanab on March 19 and in St. Johns, Arizona on March 20 before a seminar for national and chapter leaders from all parts of Arizona in Mesa on March 21.

On the return trip, a final session will be held in Cedar City on March 22.

Although abbreviated, the seminars will be patterned along the lines followed in Salt Lake City in attempting to meet the organizational needs of those invited to attend.

National President Wayne Mallet, who initiated the traveling seminars last year during his term as president-elect, said they resulted from the suggestion of national and chapter officers located great distances from national headquarters.

Fees Revised for SUP Building Rental

The National Executive Board has revised the rental prices of the SUP headquarters, due to the increased cost of maintaining the building.

Heating, lighting, custodial fees, snow removal in the parking lot, and normal repairs have all added to the cost of running the building.

The following prices became effective at the first of the year:

Weddings	$370.00
With life membership	$270.00
Reunions & other use	$170.00
With life membership	$100.00
Chapter use	$ 40.00

If platform risers are desired, the chapter must put them up and take them down the day of the meeting, and the Executive Board appreciates the help of chapters in setting up their own tables and chairs.

The Cover

This issue's cover, depicting the seagull miracle, is one of three oil paintings by Bessie Utahna Taylor Goude, which have been given to SUP National Headquarters Building.

Originally displayed in the Valley View Ward, a large mural now has been installed on the South wall of Pioneer Hall, and this painting with one other is hanging in the Pioneer Research Library.

Photographs of all three paintings will be reproduced in a future issue of PIONEER, along with information about the artist.

Seminar Sparks Leadership Tips

The training seminar held January 11, 1986, at headquarters was designed to instruct chapter officers in their duties and responsibilities of their office and to inform them of the national goals and programs.

This year, as in other years, the seminar was outstanding. May I express my appreciation to the President-Elect Leonard Johnson and his wife, Eileen, also to Eileen Dunyon and the Dick Lambert family for a beautiful program given to the ladies.

We also appreciate two special speakers, Douglas Snarr and Elder Sterling W. Sill with all the others who worked so hard to make the seminar successful.

May I mention two other areas of concern:

1. The membership program -- The greatest work chapter officers can do is to make plans now to prevent the loss of members at the end of each year. Personal contact for dues by chapter officers could prevent this loss and should be part of each chapter's expansion program. I would suggest that all national and chapter officers make a commitment to their president to enlist four new members this year. I also suggest the membership chairman keep a chart of their accomplishments and review it at each board or planning meeting.

2. Chapter meetings are not to be an extension of church meetings but should be carefully planned to reflect our pioneer heritage. Many members join because they are interested in history. Every meeting should have a well-prepared ten minute history of a pioneer ancestor or a pioneer story.

Perhaps these suggestions may be of help in your chapter activities.

Many Helpers Contribute to Success of Leader Seminar

With the theme, "Grow with SUP," the annual SUP leadership training seminar was held at national headquarters Jan. 11, directed by Leonard H. Johnson, national president-elect.

Highlights included President Wayne Mallet's "state of the society" message, Mark Nichols and Jay Welch leading a sing-along. Plans for the 1986 SUP National Convention were announced by chairman Lou Murdock.

Doug Snarr, nationally known motivational speaker addressed the seminar, and Elder Sterling W. Sill was the featured speaker during the evening banquet, with South Davis chapter as hosts.

While SUP leaders attended 19 workshop sessions, their partners enjoyed a program directed by Eileen Dunyon and featuring a presentation by Dick Lambert.

Workshop leaders were Marvin Stevens, Wally Bates, Allan Young, Francis Partridge, Joe Fisher, Bob Graham, Lou Murdock and Glen Lloyd. Assisting Leonard Johnson on the seminar planning committee were Sidney Horman, Eileen Dunyon, Marvin Stevens, Mark Nichols and Stan Stevenson, and Howard Fotheringham. Support was by Executive Secretary Glen Greenwood and the office staff.

Brigham Challenge Relay Set May 31 Along Pioneer Trail

The 2nd annual Brigham Challenge ten-mile run and Family Relay runs will be held May 31st, following the last 40 miles of the Brigham Young 1500-mile trek from Nauvoo to This Is The Place monument.

There are two types of runs. A Family relay will start east of Echo and terminate at the East Canyon Junction and Memorial Highway 65. Participants will be members of six sponsoring LDS Stakes.

The final ten-mile run will start at the East Canyon Junction and finish at the East Gate of Pioneer Trail Park. (This run is up and over Big and Little Mountains.)

In addition, this same (10) mile area will feature Family Relay Runs and will be open to all jogging families and their friends.

Sponsors of these 1986 Pioneer Runs are Brigham Young Family Association, Pioneer Relay Chapter of SUP, and six stakes: Salt Lake Immigration, Monument Park, Canyon Rim, and Morgan, Morgan North and Coalville stakes.

Registration forms for the Ten-mile Run and the four ten-mile relay runs can be secured by writing to Pioneer Relay Chapter, 3301 East 2920 South, Salt Lake City, Utah 84109. The event is open to all families who make application.

John Walker Family Check Honors 50 Names

The John Walker family organization presented a surprise "bonus" to retiring national President Verl Petersen during the President's banquet which closed the SUP leadership seminar.

It was a check for $5,000 presented by Elwood Chambers, president of the family association to memorialize 50 Pioneers from that family on a specially-designed plaque. It is the largest number of names subscribed from one family at one time.

Credit for the memorialization project will be shared by Mt. Jordan and Canyon Rim Heritage chapters, through the efforts of their respective chapter members Stanley Stevenson, and Lorry Rytting, PIO-NEER editor. Both are active in the leadership of the family association.

SUP Chartering New Chapters in Southern California

A new chapter will soon be formed in Ventura, California, according to Glen Greenwood. An organizational meeting was held in Ventura on February 8th, and another will be held to charter it in March.

Any members who would like to recommend potential members for the Ventura Chapter may call the National SUP office and talk to Glen Greenwood - (801) 484-4441.

Montie Tonnies and Kent Tonnies, both in wheelchairs, are two of those who for the past two years have looked forward to a chapter of the Sons of Utah Pioneers in Ventura, California.

They, with Glen Garr, David Tipton, Richard Goodman, Robert Ayer, Alfred Cecil and David Goodman, met with Joseph Hellewell, Vice President of So. California, and Paul Updike, February 8th at the Ventura Stake Center.

They paid chapter fees and voted to hold their first dinner meeting on March 6th, with their partners in attendance. This was the beginning of the Ventura/California chapter, Sons of Utah Pioneers.

More than 25 men were either called by or visited with David Tipton, who will be the chapter president in this new chapter. Oxnard, Santa Paula, Camarillo, and neighboring cities are included.

Anyone interested should contact David Tipton at (805) 648-1521 or Montie Tonnies, 1466 East Thompson Blvd. (9300), Ventura, California. In Salt Lake, can contact Joe Hellewell at 1930 East 4625 South, Holladay, UT 84117, (801) 277-0270.

The Mesa Chapter has agreed to sponsor the Ventura Chapter. President Howard Roberts and many of the Mesa members plan to attend the Charter meeting in May.

Awards Committee Announces Changes

Morris Bennion, chairman of the awards committee, is announcing some changes in procedures. At a recent meeting, the committee decided to eliminate the filing of an entry form and to encourage all chapters to take an active part in the program.

Each chapter should set goals which will qualify the chapter for recognition at the convention which will be held in Salt Lake City, August 21-24.

There are several areas in the achievement program which will challenge chapter activity. It will be necessary for chapter officers to examine the secretaries' records, along with clippings and other materials available to enable them to bring the score sheet up to date. The achievement year began July 1, 1985 and will close on June 30, 1986.

At the convention at Salt Lake City in August, the outstanding large chapter, 50 or more members, and the outstanding small chapter, with fewer than 50 members, will receive plaques, while the other participating chapters will receive appropriate framed certificates.

Each chapter is encouraged to submit candidates for the outstanding individual and a couple who have made significant contributions to the chapter or to the National organization. The outstanding individual and the outstanding couple will each receive a plaque, while other participants will be awarded appropriate framed certificates.

Another area which is available to chapters is the "Pioneer Story Contest". This program will be recognized, as are the other contests.

Deadline April 30 For Heritage Book Pioneer Biographies

Those wishing to submit biographical sketches of their pioneer ancestors for the Pioneer Ancestor Album to be published by Heritage Publishers Services now have until April 30.

Each SUP household is entitled to only one 200-word biography, without charge. Additional sketches, longer biographies or photographs may be added, but at additional fees.

Many excellent historical sketches have been received. The revised deadline was adopted to allow others to be included.

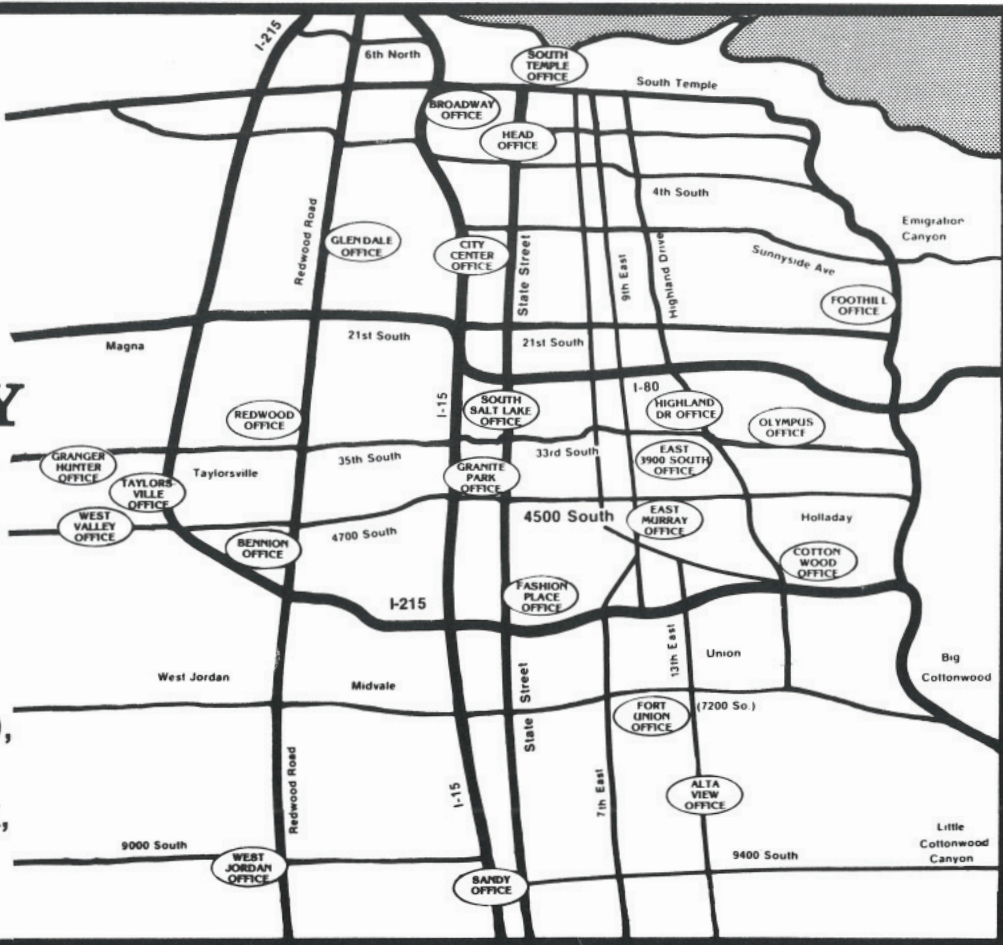

Executive Secretary Glen Greenwood urges those who have not yet submitted a biography to do so promptly.

to the fact that it stimulates both individual and chapter activities and helps to involve the communities, schools and churches and helps unite areas in good causes.

Memorial Fund Gains $1000 from 1985 Cedar City Encampment

The Cedar City Chapter has donated $1,000 towards a memorial statue to the founders of Southern Utah State College.

Fund-raising efforts were spearheaded by the SUP, the Iron County Historical Society and the Iron County Chapter of Daughters of the Utah Pioneers. Dedicatory services for the large bronze monument will be held this spring.

"We are interested in the establishment of historical monuments, and the founders memorial is the epitome of all monuments," said Clinton Hunt, the chapter SUP president. Over 500 individuals attended a national SUP encampment held in Cedar City in August, Hunt said, and proceeds from the chapter-sponsored event resulted in the $1,000 donation.

SUSC President Gerald R. Sherratt accepted the donation from President Hunt; Loran D. Hirschi, secretary/treasurer of the Cedar City chapter; Richard Stucki, chapter president-elect; Frank J. Petty, chapter past-president; and Foyer Olsen, a national vice president.

"We are very appreciative of the efforts of the SUP to make this memorial a reality," Dr. Sherratt said.

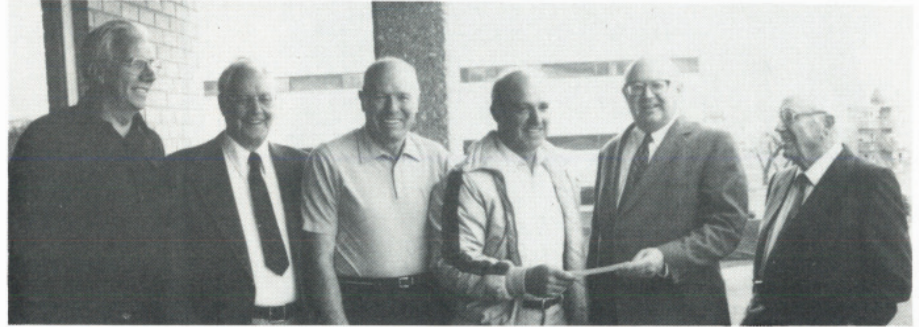

There are 90 members in the local SUP chapter, all direct descendants of the Utah pioneers. The organization, Petty said, is interested in preserving pioneer history. "We are interested in perpetuating the ideas and ideals of the pioneers, and we felt that this was a monument that was well deserved."

Quentin Thomas Featured

A feature article by staff writer Edith Morgan was published recently in the Logan Herald Journal based on the career of SUP and Mormon Battalion leader Quentin Thomas.

Since 1953, he has been an active member and leader in Sons of Utah Pioneers, holding virtually every office in the local chapter, and in U.S. Mormon Battalion, serving as commander of Co. D 15 years, then as division commander.

Pioneer Tannery Marked by Plaque

by Loren W. Ferre

The Beehive Chapter dedicated a plaque, November 20, telling of the B & K Tannery established in 1852. Jerome Tullis, our Trails and Landmarks chairman was in charge of this project. In attendance were Chapter members and their wives and President Verl L. Peterson, President-Elect Wayne Mallet, Area Vice President Wallace Bates, Trails and Landmarks Chairman Carlyle L. Jensen and Executive Secretary Glen L. Greenwood.

The plaque has been attached to the railing on the balcony outside of Heritage Hall, and as a person reads the plaque he can see the site of the tannery.

Immediately following the dedication of the plaque by Wally Bates, a delicious catered dinner was enjoyed by all.

Dr. Albert L. Fisher presented an interesting and informative talk on the early era of the church, the pioneers, the Territory, and the settling of the western states.

Text of Plaque

"The B & K Tannery, also known as the Big Canyon Tannery, was established in 1852 near this site by Brigham Young, Feramor Little and John Winder. The area was first called Canyon Creek; then Big Canyon, and later Parley's Canyon. By 1862, the Tannery was producing good quality leather, using agents such as oak bark and coal oil in the process.

A small settlement was built nearby to accommodate the tannery workers, which included a school for the children of the manager and the workmen.

Local artisans used the leather produced to manufacture boots, harnesses and saddles. The coal oil was obtained from a well, known as the Tar Springs, near Yellow Creek, which was located at the site of present Evanston, Wyoming.

The use of coal oil created a softness in the leather that brought exhibitors three out of five of the first prizes in the Territorial Fair of 1862. Leather from this Tannery was used in the shoe shop Brigham Young established on his own premises.

Two things led to the demise of the Tannery; the scarcity of the native bark needed for the tanning, and the fact that the newly installed railroad brought in leather which was cheaper than could be manufactured here."

Highlights of History

Where did Utah's Buffalo Go?

When the Pioneers first arrived in Utah they saw no buffalo. In 1824, Jim Bridger had shot a buffalo in Cache Valley and skinned it. From the hide and some willows, he made a boat and floated down the Bear River to discover the Great Salt Lake.

In 1827 the Goshiute Indians told Jedediah Smith there were buffalo in Tooele Valley. In 1834 historians report that there were buffalo in the Fort Hall area. But in 1838 there were no buffalo in the Fort Hall area.

Stories told by the mountain men, trappers, and fur traders indicate that the terrible winter of 1835-36 killed off all the buffalo in Northwest Utah and Southern Idaho.

The lack of buffalo and other game animals created a severe shortage of food for the early pioneers. During the journey from Iowa to the mountains, Porter Rockwell often shot buffalo to provide meat for the pioneers.

The origin of the name of Skull Valley is attributed to the bad winter of 1836. Travelers and settlers going west from Tooele Valley entered a long wide valley strewn with buffalo bones and skulls, hence the name Skull Valley.

Fateful Route for Donner Party

During 1846, in Wyoming, Jim Bridger and Lansford Hastings told Jacob Donner not to take the Oregon/California trail through Fort Hall, Idaho then to the Humboldt River on the way to California. Hastings said that he had just come from California via Salt Lake Valley. He said that this route was 250 miles less distance and would save them three weeks time.

James Clyman, one of the great mountain men, warned Donner that the shortcut was bad route because lack of water and 60 miles of mud flats. Donner disregarded Clyman's advice and agreed to meet Hastings in three weeks at Timpie Spring southwest of the Great Salt Lake.

The Donner Party proceeded west to the Henefer area and up "Big Mountain". However it took three weeks to cut a road up Big Mountain. By the time they reached Timpie Spring, Hastings had gone. The further delays they had in crossing the mud flats, the loss of livestock and wagons and being trapped in the early October snow in the Sierras made one of the great tragedies in western history.

The Mormon Pioneers of 1847 followed the Donner Party trail into Salt Lake Valley. The three weeks the Mormons saved enabled them to get their seed potatoes planted. Potatoes were a vital part of their diet during the winter of 1847-48.

Bank Sculpture Gift

Culmination of a five year search has resulted in the recent acquisition by SUP of a magnificent two foot, bronze-colored bust of President Brigham Young. It is a gift from Zion's First National Bank.

The sculpture, signed by "Louis Potter" was acquired through the combined efforts of Alan S. Young and John J. Nielsen and is on display in the gallery hall.

National Officers See Hurricane Chapter; Visit Escalante, Kanab

National President D. Wayne Mallet, National Vice President Foyer Olson, and Cedar City Secretary Lorin Hirschie recently met with a group of prospective members in Hurricane to start a new chapter in that area. The ground work was previously laid and they have met with the potential chapter at a dinner meeting.

President Mallet also met with the Red Rock Chapter in Kanab at their Valentine dinner/dance. Vice President Olson met with the Hole-in-the-Rock Chapter in Escalante. There were six couples in attendance at a pot luck dinner. They are reorganizing and expect to have an active chapter there soon.

Competition Opens for Pioneer Stories; Winners in PIONEER

Orrin Miller, Chairman of the Pioneer Stories Committee, announced that awards will be given to writers who submit the best stories, which will be published in the Pioneer Magazine.

Chapter Presidents are encouraged to sponsor pioneer story writing contests within their chapters. Stories written by SUP chapter members could be used at dinner meetings and the best ones forwarded to the National Society.

The National Society officers will rate the stories and the authors. They will then award the best three writers certificates of merit at the annual convention.

The chapter officers have concluded that their program of work will emphasize the area of "Community Service", with its many facets. Sometimes there is such a fine line on whether the activity is classified as community service, public relations and markers and monuments.

Some areas that are receiving special attention at the present time are: Lifeline and hospital service under the direction of Vern and Ethel Poulter; other health services such as nursing homes, senior citizens' programs, health care cost containment and the educating of members of their rights in health care are being conducted.

Carlyle Jensen heads up a committee to work with legislators to consider bills to see that the rights of members are protected.

Educational volunteer services in the classroom or fund-raising projects for schools are under the direction of Dr. Leslie Dunn, Morgan Hawkes, President of the RTA, Dr. J. C. Haws and Sam Gordon.

Pioneer Chapter

by Larry A. Eggett

The past several months have been busy ones for the Pioneer Chapter. On Nov. 6, our wives joined us for a catered dinner at the National Headquarters building.

Guest speaker was Dr. Vaughn Hansen, chairman of the Ancient America Foundation, who shared discoveries recently made in the Book of Mormon lands. He explained that although physical evidences certainly strengthen our testimonies, they should not be the basis of our beliefs.

Our wives again joined us on Dec. 11 at the Lion House for our annual Christmas Luncheon.

Jan. 8 was "Bring a Potential Member" luncheon at the Lion House. Monsignor Jerome Stoffel, archivist for the Salt Lake Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, was our speaker. He shared with us some very interesting history regarding Catholics who played a prominent role in the settlement of the Salt Lake Valley.

Mountain Valley SUP Chapter

Mountain Valley Chapter, a small, but enthusiastic, group, have concluded their 1985 activities.

The year's program began in March with a presentation by Jerry Springer on Trappers/Mountain Men.

Dennis Clegg gave a history of Pioneers of Provo River in April.

The Mormon Battalion, by Elmer Carr, was the May topic.

June saw the restoration of the fence around the seven soldiers buried at Soldiers Summit. It was a campout for some members.

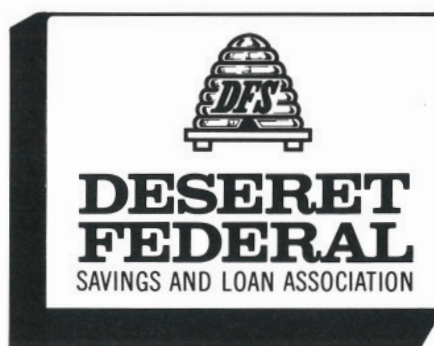

The Mormon Trail, from This Is The Place Monument to Henefer, was the activity for July.

The Center Creek Cemetery was the August project. Members straightened the fence around it.

The Annual Fall Picnic was held in September at the Lions' Shelter.

Vern Jeffers, well founded in the history of Soldiers Summit, was guest speaker for October.

The Luke and Clegg family history, by Theron H. Luke, was the final social for 1985.

The National Society of Sons of Utah Pioneers will hold its first national convention--instead of encampment--August 21 to 24 at Marriott Hotel in Salt Lake City.

This new kind of annual meeting is expected to bring delegates together in a more comfortable, intensive and rewarding experience, culminating in a special Sunday Morning activity in Salt Lake Tabernacle preceding the Tabernacle Choir broadcast.

Emphasis will be on SUP ideals, our Pioneer heritage and on exchange-ing ideas for better chapter meetings and activities.

The use of banquet and conference rooms, and fees for hotel rooms and meals have been obtained at favorable rates. For the three nights and four days--including all meals, tours and activities--each couple will pay only $389 for double occupancy, or individuals will be charged $284 for a single room.

This compares favorably with actual costs most delegates have paid in previous years, according to Lou Murdock, president of the convention hosts, the Holladay chapter.

An early look at the program being planned indicates a full schedule, beginning with registration on Thursday, August 21, and including workshops and a dinner and inspirational program that evening.

Highlighting the second day will be tours of Pioneer sites in the morning, more seminars and a special program for partners in the afternoon, capped by an evening theatre performance.

Saturday's morning schedule begins with the traditional Officers' breakfast and business meeting while a special program is presented for the ladies. An awards luncheon is planned, separating this activity from the President's evening banquet.

The convention will end Sunday morning on Temple Square with a special program preceding the Tabernacle Choir's nation-wide radio network broadcast.

The scenic/historic treks which have always been a popular activity of past encampments are receiving special attention in the planning for this year's convention, with a treasure trove of sites near Salt Lake City.

Advance Registration is necessary. Please send the attached form, with deposit, as soon as possible. The balance of the convention fee is requested by July 1st.

Commander's Message

Call for Enthusiasm and Dedication

With today's hustle and bustle, we no longer have the time to sit with our friends and neighbors in front of the local store and visit, as many of our ancestors did. Today we must make every minute count in order for us to keep up with the responsibilities and desires of today's world.

With the technology we have today in all fields of learning we need to gear our activities to keep pace with these important discoveries.

Along with these most important advancements we, the Mormon Battalion, need to promote, encourage and push with all the enthusiasm we can muster. We need to use every means at our disposal to bring more members, both young and old, into this program. We need these thrusts as the propellants around us to help fulfill our goals.

To accomplish this it will take the united efforts of every member; to use the expertise we have in our various assignments and move together as a team. We can do it if we really try. Let's make it the most important part of our every day lives and we will be successful.

I appreciate the efforts of our Company officers. Through extra work you will see dreams come true.

San Diego Attracts Utahns for Mormon Battalion Day

by Stuart H. Richards

The annual celebration marking arrival of the Mormon Battalion in San Diego on Jan. 29, 1847 attracted a chartered bus of battalion members and their partners from Utah.

A delegation of nine from Cache Valley, led by Utah Division Commander Lt. Col. Quentin Thomas, joined a larger group in Sandy, Utah to begin the trek, leaving Jan. 20, via Richfield, Zion's National Park, St. George and Las Vegas.

The group participated in an endowment session at the Los Angeles LDS temple and visited Forest Lawn Cemetery, Fort Moore Memorial and Disneyland.

A dinner hosted by the Southern California Division was held Jan. 24, and a change of command in the division was made.

Commemorative services on Jan. 25 featured a flag-raising ceremony and an address by Major Martinelli, U. S. Army. These were followed by a tour of the USS Kitty Hawk aircraft carrier, arranged by Lt. Col. Paul Madsen, executive officer of the national board.

The return journey included a stop at San Bernardino Pioneer Memorial Cemetery, and return visits to Las Vegas and St. George. The 2,000-mile trip ended Jan. 27 again in Sandy, after a stop at Fillmore, Utah's first state capitol. Basic costs were $200 per person for bus charter and lodging.

Officiating at banquet on the eve of Mormon Battalion Day in San Diego were Col. John C. Richards and Bertha B. Richards, national commanders of the battalion and auxiliary; Southern California division officers are: Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson, past commander; Lt. Col. and Mrs. Joel C. Stoddard, present commander; Capt. James B. Taylor and Captain and Mrs. Kenneth E. Foster, staff officers.

by 1st Lt. Faye Eldredge

From departure in rain and fog until returning to new snow, members of the Mormon Battalion Ladies Auxiliary enjoyed the trek to San Diego with the Mormon Battalion men.

William Walsh recounted his experiences as Church purchasing agent at the time the Los Angeles temple was being constructed.

A highlight for the women was shopping at Sea Port Village prior to the banquet at LaMesa/Aztec LDS ward chapel.

The group were welcomed by Lt. Col. Robert S. Wilkinson, who acknowledged the Utah visitors, including Col. John C. Richards and Bertha Richards, national battalion and auxiliary commanders. Another guest was Florence Augustenborg, president of the Boosters of Old Town San Diego State Historic Park Association.

Others receiving plaques were Stephanie Conder in honor of her late husband, and Bishop Maynard Olsen, organizer of a bike trek which has grown from 60 to 500 participants in four years.

Music was provided by a choir in pioneer attire and singing as if surrounding a camp fire. These activities were a fitting introduction to the following day's festivities.

Naval officers presented the flag to National Commander Col. John C. Richards, who then instructed the color guard to raise the flag. Those attending learned of U.S. Army history before 1846 from Major Martinelli and of today's Mormon Battalion from Lt. Col. Williamson.

Enroute home on Sunday, Jan. 26, religious services were held aboard the bus. A new battalion member and three new auxiliary members recruited during the tour were Andrew J. Eldredge, Alice Walsh, Ada Bitton and a direct battalion descendant, Veleta Stephenson Kerr.

The auxiliary members appreciated the efforts of Fred Newson, who arranged the trek.

Chapter Trek Probes Mysteries of Egypt

Forty-four members of the Settlement Canyon Chapter had the privilege of visiting the Ramses II Egyptian Exhibit at the Monte L. Bean Museum, Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah on the 21st of November, 1985. This exhibit is the premiere showing in the U.S.A.

There are over 70 objects on display, including large statues, burial artifacts, exquisite gold jewelry and tools. The granite sculptures portrayed the religious influence and the high degree of artistic perfection attained by that ancient civilization.

Members wondered how the artisans could carve the granite. Granite is composed of quartz, feldspar and hornblend. Quartz has a hardness of 6, steel has a hardness index of 5. They did not have tempered steel tools or diamond cutting equipment. Members concluded the sculptors must have used quartz knives and chisels, but how could they make the quartz knives and chisels? That secret remains lost along with many more facets of their civilization.

The trek was concluded with a luncheon at a local restaurant. Life member Orrin Miller and his wife Amy conducted the trek.

Chinese and Utahns Exchange Visits

by Bertram T. Willis

David M. Mayfield, director of the Member Services Division of the LDS Church Genealogical Department reported his pioneering visit to Chinese libraries at the January dinner meeting of the Salt Lake City Chapter.

His trip to China was to share modern technology and facilitate future processing of their extensive genealogical data. Since his visit, two delegations of Chinese officers have come to Salt Lake City for additional information.

His report included a multi-media history of the Genealogical Society from its inception in 1911 when Nephi Anderson said that members would eventually have the largest and finest library in the world for their research. The recent completion of the new library has fulfilled his prediction.

Mayfield has served as a national vice president of SUP, and as president of the Salt Lake City Chapter. He is currently chairman of the International Services Committee of the National Genealogical Society and a delegate to the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions. He and his wife, Judy, have eight children.

Clif Alsop

Clif Alsop, 71, and SUP Life Member of Salt Lake Chapter, has a hobby in which he has achieved important honors in just four years—he makes violins and violas by hand after retiring from 40 years as a building contractor and furniture designer.

An illustrated feature article by Bruce Hills was published last year in the Deseret News. Alsop has played the violin since he was 11, and formerly played in the Utah Symphony.

Working as an amateur in a workshop at his home, his instruments have won international honors among amateur craftsmen and some of his 50 violins and 20 violas are now played by professionals in the New York City ballet orchestra.

In great demand as a speaker to senior citizens groups, school classes and church groups, Alsop claims, "Building violins and violas keeps you young. I believe if every one could develop a hobby in their senior years they would be much happier and healthier."
